Bob Hoover was one of the greatest aviators of all time. He was a barnstorming stunt pilot, a record-breaking pilot, and a pioneering aviation safety expert. In his memoir, _In the Cockpit with Bob Hoover_, he recounts his remarkable career and shares his passion for flying.

Hoover was born in 1922 in Nashville, Tennessee. He began flying at the age of 15 and quickly became a skilled pilot. In 1942, he joined the Army Air Corps and served as a fighter pilot during World War II. After the war, he returned to civilian flying and became a barnstorming stunt pilot. He performed daring aerobatic maneuvers in his modified P-51 Mustang, earning the nickname "Hoover the Hoverer."

In 1955, Hoover set a world speed record for piston-engine airplanes. He flew his F-86 Sabrejet from Los Angeles to New York City in 3 hours and 23 minutes, breaking the previous record by more than an hour. Hoover's record-breaking flight was a major publicity stunt for the Air Force and helped to promote the development of jet aviation.

In addition to his record-breaking flights, Hoover was also a pioneering aviation safety expert. He developed a number of new safety procedures and techniques, and he was instrumental in the establishment of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB). Hoover's work in aviation safety helped to save countless lives.

In the Cockpit with Bob Hoover is a thrilling and inspiring memoir by one of the greatest aviators of all time. Hoover recounts his remarkable career with wit and candor, and he shares his passion for flying in a way that is sure to inspire readers of all ages.
