Lam's poems resonate with a raw and honest emotion that captures the essence of loss. In "The Loss," he writes:

“ The loss is a void, a hollowed space, A wound that throbs, a pain I cannot chase. It gnaws at me, a constant ache, A reminder of what I cannot take. ”

Lam's poems not only explore the pain of loss but also the ways in which it can shape and transform us. In "Elegy for a Father," he writes:

“ Your absence is a weight upon my soul, A heavy cloak that I can never unroll. Yet in your absence, I have found a strength, A resilience I never knew I had. ”

Through his personal experiences of loss, Lam invites readers to confront their own experiences and emotions. His poems offer a space for reflection, healing, and the search for meaning in the face of adversity.

Love and the Power of Memory

While loss is a central theme in Oxopetra Elegies, Lam also explores the power of love and memory in sustaining us through difficult times. In "Love in the Time of Loss," he writes:

“ Even in the darkest of nights, Love shines like a beacon, a guiding light. It holds us together, keeps us strong, A lifeline that helps us carry on. ”

Lam's poems celebrate the enduring power of love, even in the face of loss. In "Memory," he writes:

“ Memory is a treasure, a precious gift, A way to keep our loved ones close, even as they drift. Through memories, we can revisit the past, And find solace in moments that will forever last. ”

Lam's poems serve as a reminder that love and memory are powerful forces that can sustain us through life's challenges. They invite readers to cherish their loved ones and to find comfort in the memories they share.

Poetic Journey through Greece

Oxopetra Elegies is not only a collection of poems about loss, love, and memory, but also a poetic journey through the beautiful and historic land of Greece. Lam's travels to Oxopetra, an ancient archaeological site in southern Greece, provide a backdrop for his reflections on loss, love, and the human condition.

In "Oxopetra," Lam writes:

“ Here, amidst ruins of a bygone age, I wander, lost in thought, in a poetic haze. These stones whisper tales of love and loss, Of lives lived and memories that endure. ”

Lam's poems evoke the rich history and culture of Greece, drawing parallels between the experiences of ancient Greeks and the experiences of contemporary humans. He explores themes of mortality, the search for meaning, and the human desire for connection.

Through his poetic journey through Greece, Lam invites readers to reflect on their own lives and to find inspiration in the stories of those who have come before them.
